B.C. WINS GRAIN RAIL RATE CASE

MOUNTAIN RATE ON GRAIN NOW IS ABOLISHED

British Columbia Wins Fight for Equalization; Rate Per Mile on Shipments From Prairie Points to Ports on This Coast to Be Same as on Shipments to Head of Great Lakes

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—The Railway Commission, after a hearing extending several months in respect to export rates on grain, flour and other commodities by way of Pacific and Atlantic ports, issued judgment today ordering that the hitherto existing "mountain differential rate" on grain export by way of British Columbia ports should be abolished and that the same rate per mile should apply on exports through Pacific ports from the prairies as now applies by way of the head of the Great Lakes eastward.

The board also ordered a reduction on grain rates from the head of the Great Lakes by rail to Quebec and Montreal. This reduction via Quebec is from 34½ cents a hundredweight on wheat to 18.34 cents a hundredweight, with a corresponding reduction by way of Montreal. This reduction, however, does not affect the water-borne rate, which practically determined the wheat export movement through Montreal and Quebec.

The reduction in the rate through British Columbia ports will undoubtedly materially encourage grain export from the prairies through Pacific ports and through the Panama Canal.

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—Railway commission of Canada today issued an order restricting the equalization of freight rates on shipments of grain and flour as a result of the recent inquiry into the whole subject of railway freight rates in Canada.

The board orders:
"1.—That the rates on grain and flour from all points on Canadian Pacific main line west of Port Williams to Port Williams, Fort Arthur and Westport, be equalized to the present Canadian Pacific main line basis of rates of equivalent mileage groupings (the rates governed by the Crow's Nest Pass Agreement not to be exceeded); that the Canadian Pacific Railway publish rates in accordance with the above direction, and that all other railways companies adjust their rates on grain and flour to Port Williams, Port Arthur, Westport and Armstrong to the rates so put into effect by the Canadian Pacific Railway, such changes to become effective September 12, 1927.

WESTWARD SHIPMENTS
"2.—That the rates on grain and flour from prairie points to Vancouver and Prince Rupert for export shall be on the same basis as the rates to Port Williams, but in computing such rates the distance from Calgary to Vancouver via the Canadian Pacific Railway shall be assumed to be the same as from Edmonton to Vancouver via the Canadian National Railway, namely, 766 miles.

"3.—That the provisions as to distributing tariffs set out in Section 17 of the judgment in the Western Rates Case, shall, instead of being limited to the Canadian Pacific Railway, as provided in that case, be extended to all railways operating in Canada."

Big U.S. Dirigible Slightly Damaged

Lakehurst, N.J., Aug. 26.—The giant dirigible Los Angeles was slightly damaged yesterday afternoon when, as it was about to leave its mooring mast on a brief flight, a sudden gust of wind threw it stern up into the air so the ship assumed an almost vertical position.

The flight was abandoned and the ship put back into its hangar.

FISHING FLEETS LASHED BY GREAT STORM

Ports in Maritime Provinces, Maine and Newfoundland Await Full Reports

Boston, Aug. 26.—Seaports from Cape Cod to Newfoundland today awaited with trepidation further reports from their fishing fleets, which had already told of eleven dead, four missing and many injured, with ships lost or broken by the force of a tropical hurricane which swept up the coast.

Severe damage to crops and highways was reported from the land, but the toll of life was exacted at sea. As the storm swept northward came reports first of the grounding of three yachts at Nantucket, then the grounding of one schooner and the dismasting of another off Cape Cod, three vessels and dozens of small craft wrecked in Nova Scotia, and one sunk, six grounded and two forced adrift at St. Pierre, Micoud, with the storm still raging at St. Johns, Nfld.

NEWFOUNDLAND DEATHS
St. Johns, Nfld., Aug. 26.—Three fatalities had been accounted for today in different parts of Newfoundland following the windstorm that swept the island yesterday, and the fate of another person was unknown. As in the case of Nova Scotia, the storm played havoc with shipping along the coast. Up to this afternoon three vessels were known to have been wrecked. Two of the deaths occurred at sea, another man is believed to have been drowned in the vicinity of Placentia Bay and the scene of the fourth death was at Humber Mouth.

MAN AND SON LOST
Halifax, Aug. 26.—The toll of known dead in the storm of Wednesday night was increased to ten when it became known today that the ten-ton schooner Silgo, which was found awash off Prospect, in this county, yesterday with (Concluded on page 2)

Courtney Plane Closely Examined By Mechanics

Southampton, Eng., Aug. 26.—Mechanics worked all last night drawing off the oil from Captain F. F. Courtney's flying boat, the Whale, and making a thorough structural examination of the flying boat, whose heavy fuel load had balked several attempts to get it into the air. It was stated at Courtney's camp today that another attempt would be made to start the transatlantic flight to New York by way of the Azores not later than 6 o'clock this evening.

The excursion will be made when hop picking and harvesting of clover will be in full swing.

WORLD PLANE FLIES TO NEWFOUNDLAND FROM MAINE PORT

W. Brock and E. F. Schlee Now Ready to Hop Off For New World Record

People of Maritime Provinces Saw Plane as it Passed

Harbor Grace, Nfld., Aug. 26.—The Pride of Detroit, the E. F. Schlee round-the-world aeroplane, landed here at 4.45 p.m. local time (10.15 a.m. Victoria time).

SEEN OVER P.E.I.
Charlottetown, P.E.I., Aug. 26.—A number of persons saw the monoplane Pride of Detroit as it flew over here at 10 o'clock this morning, Atlantic standard time. The plane was flying low.

The weather here is ideal for flying, being fine and clear.

SEEN AT ST. MARTIN'S, N.B.
St. John, N.B., Aug. 26.—The aeroplane Pride of Detroit was reported passing over St. Martin's, about forty miles east of here, at 9 a.m. Atlantic standard time, today.

SEEN BY COASTGUARDS
Eastport, Me., Aug. 26.—The monoplane Pride of Detroit, en route to Newfoundland to start an attempt to break the record for circling the earth, passed from United States territory at 2.55 a.m. eastern daylight time, was sighted from the West Quoddy Head coastguard station.

STARTED FROM MAINE
Old Orchard Beach, Maine, Aug. 26.—The monoplane Pride of Detroit hopped off here at 5.25 a.m. daylight time, this morning for Harbor Grace, Nfld., where the start of an attempt at a new world encircling record will be made. William S. Brock, pilot, drove the monoplane down the beach sands and took off easily. Five minutes later he was reported passing over Cape Elizabeth, at the entrance to Portland Harbor.

Fair weather conditions obtained, with a light northwest wind and some clouds.

The route of the plane on the more than 1,000-mile hop was expected to take it over Nova Scotia.

PARTIES IN IRELAND CHOOSE CANDIDATES

Parliamentary General Election in Free State Called For Middle of September

Dublin, Aug. 26.—Political leaders of the Irish Free State today were discussing possible candidates and campaign plans for the general election fixed for September, following the action of the Cosgrave Government yesterday in calling for the immediate dissolution of the Free State Parliament.

Nominations are to be made September 3.

OPPORTUNITY SEIZED
Although the Government won a victory in the election of its candidates in Wednesday's two by-elections to fill the seats in the Dail Eireann held by the late Countess Markievicz and Kevin O'Higgins, who was assassinated recently, President Cosgrave decided the Government would not have a sufficient margin of safety. The Executive Council met and it was agreed to take advantage of the present favorable situation for the Government. Governor-General Healy was notified and he granted a dissolution of the Dail Eireann, consisting of the Dail Eireann, and the Senate. He set October 11 for the convening of the new Parliament.

NEW SITUATION
In statement announcing the dissolution, Mr. Cosgrave declared the entry into the Dail of the Pinnis Fall deputies (followers of Eamon de Valera) and their alliance with the Laborites, and the National League Party had created a situation entirely different from that envisaged by the voters at the last general election. It was clear, however, that the present Government could not hope to carry out its programme in the new circumstances.

After reviewing the position and relations of the parties in the Dail, he said it was the duty of the Government to call a general election.

Kiwanians May Come To Victoria in 1929 For Big Convention

Victoria may be the venue of the Kiwanis Pacific Northwest District Convention in 1929, according to a statement made by Harold Diggon, president of the Victoria Kiwanis Club, who returned yesterday from Spokane, where he attended this year's meeting of the governing body.

Nearly a thousand Kiwanians attended the Spokane convention. On behalf of Victoria, President Diggon extended an invitation to hold the convention at Victoria in 1929.

The invitation was supported by telegram from Mayor J. Carl Pendry, the Chamber of Commerce and the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

The Victoria delegation to the convention included President Harold Diggon, Dr. Howard Miller, district trustee and secretary Carl W. Stocker.

To discharge 160 tons of European cargo here and to load 300 tons outward, the Holland-America vessel Kinderdyk arrived here shortly after 3 o'clock to-day from the United Kingdom and European ports via the Panama Canal and Pacific Coast ports. The vessel was expected here last night but was delayed by fog and did not get into quarantine until 2 o'clock.

SECRET NAVY PACT REPORT IS DENIED

No Basis For Washington Newspaper Story About Britain and Japan

Washington, Aug. 26.—An article in the Washington Post yesterday which said State Department officials had received word that Great Britain and Japan had reached a secret agreement on naval policies, brought from Acting Secretary Castle a categorical denial that the department had knowledge of any such understanding.

The Post said the agreement was reached when it became apparent the United States would not accept the British programme at the recent Geneva Naval Conference.

"The press story of a secret naval pact between Great Britain and Japan is, as far as the State Department knows, absolutely without foundation," Mr. Castle said.

"No suggestion of this kind has reached the department, and I have no reason to believe there is any foundation for the story."

London, Aug. 26.—British official quarters characterized as "big navy propaganda" report published in the United States of a secret understanding between Great Britain and Japan on naval supremacy.

It was indicated that the report had reached official hands, but that it was deemed unworthy of consideration. It was stated the only possible "agreement" to which the published report might refer was a compromise agreement drawn up by Japanese and British delegates at the Geneva Naval Conference, but rejected by Hugh S. Gibson, head of the United States delegation.

It was added that this proposal was fully known and that the United States rejection made it void.

JAPANESE DENIAL

Tokyo, Aug. 26.—First denial was made by the Foreign Office here today that there was any truth in the Washington Post story of an Anglo-Japanese secret agreement regarding future naval supremacy. It also denied there had been talk of a revival of the former alliance.

ARBITRATION IS HOPE OF NATIONS

Senator Dandurand at Convention in Paris Speaks of Peace Outlook

Paris, Aug. 26.—Addressing the inaugural session of the Twenty-fifth Congress of the Inter-parliamentary Union here yesterday, Hon. Raoul Dandurand, Government leader in the Canadian Senate, expressed the hope that the British Empire, the United States and France might lead all nations nearer the obligatory arbitration of their disputes.

RHINELAND OCCUPATION

A German request that France withdraw her troops from the Rhineland came before the Congress at its inaugural session.

Premier Poincaré of France had just delivered a welcoming speech reminding the Congress its work was purely platonic when Paul Loeb, President of the German Reichstag, raised the question of evacuation of the Rhineland as a necessary condition for permanent peace. He urged withdrawal be made this year.

Senator Henri de Jouvénel of France, replying to Herr Loeb, remarked it was difficult for the world to believe the evacuation of the Rhineland was a necessary condition for permanent peace. He urged withdrawal be made this year.

PARTIES IN IRELAND CHOOSE CANDIDATES

Executive to insure that no political deception should be perpetrated upon the public, and therefore he set forth what would be involved in the event the Government were defeated in the Dail in the near future.

PERIOD OF UNCERTAINTY

Such a defeat, he said, would mean either a period of chaos, in which the Dail would be unable to form a government because a majority vote for any president would not be possible, while discussion would be impossible because there would be no active council possessing support of the House to advise the Governor-General, or it would mean an unstable government formed by the various parties, pursuing a policy at variance with their election promises and tampering with the Anglo-Irish Treaty which had created the Free State.

LOAN IS NEEDED

Another very serious consideration was that a new national loan, made to be floated in November to provide for carrying on the essential services of the country. No unstable government could hope to borrow at reasonable interest, the statement was added, and consequently the services would be arranged at prohibitive cost.

It was essential, therefore, that the atmosphere should be cleared at least a month before an appeal was made to the investing public.

"It is necessary," the statement concluded, "to bring an end to a parliamentary situation in which the work of the nation can not be done."

PROTEST BY VALERA

Eamon de Valera issued a statement declaring the Government's "sharp practice of rushing the country into an election during the harvest is exactly what was expected from them."

He added they would find the Husky Fall better prepared than they thought.

"I am confident the forces of Irish Ireland will stand shoulder to shoulder in this final battle against imperialism," he said.

STATEMENTS BY JOHNSTON

An "act of desperation" and "a challenge to democracy" is how Tom Johnston, Labor and Opposition leader in the Dail, described the Free State Ministry's move.

He predicted the Government would be defeated "when the masses take up the challenge."

CORRUPT PARTY CONFIDENT

The corrupt general election is welcomed by the Government's supporters, who are confident that in October the Government will have an effective majority. The view is also expressed that the Labor Party will be weaker in the new Parliament. There is a general opinion that in view of recent happenings, Mr. Cosgrave could not have chosen a better time to appeal to the country.

FIGURES OF POLLS

The two by-elections on Wednesday were in the city of Dublin and Dublin County.

Gerald O'Sullivan, running to fill the vacancy caused by the assassination of Vice-President O'Higgins, captured the seat for the Government party by a plurality of more than 12,000, polling 51,966 votes to 16,126 for Robert Brennan, Valera candidate, and 1,459 for Kathleen Lynn, Sinn Féin candidate.

In the other by-election, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Countess Markievicz, the Government candidate, received 24,139 votes; R. Birse, the Sinn Féin candidate, the Valera Republican group, polled 18,697, and Charles Murphy, Sinn Féin, 1,119.

HON. C. STEWART IS TO VISIT EUROPE

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior and Minister of Mines of Canada, and Dr. Charles Camsell, Deputy Minister, will sail for Europe this week-end. Mr. Stewart will be one of the Canadian Government representatives at the League of Nations conference at Geneva.

After the sessions of the League he and Dr. Camsell will visit many of the industrial centres of Germany and Great Britain for the purpose of investigating the progress made in the past few years in the treatment of lignite and bituminous coal for by-products in Germany. New discoveries are being used in this field of industrial science. Producers in Germany claim they can secure oil from coal at a less cost to them than crude oil.

ROYAL CITY GIVES GOVERNMENT MOST EMPHATIC MANDATE

"The victory at New Westminster was very gratifying to us and is a cheering reply to the charges of wrong doing against the Government that some of the party press of our political opponents have sought to engender in the public mind. The campaign of our opponents consisted of attacks on the administration and of attempts to convince the electors that if they were to initiate when time and circumstances would permit. I was particularly gratified by the high plane on which our campaign was conducted both by the speakers and by Mr. Gray and his supporters and the enthusiastic diligence of the Liberal workers in New Westminster."

HAD NO POLICY

"The success of our candidate was due to several reasons. First, the good of the electors of New Westminster. Second, the popularity of our candidate. Third, the disappointment of the electors at the lack of constructive policies on the part of our political opponents. Fourthly, the approval of the Government administration and legislation. Another matter which caused some resentment was the action of Mr. Pooley and Mr. Twigg in their haste to notify the speaker of the vacancy of the day following the funeral of their late member, Dr. Rothwell."

MAJORITY IS 925

The result of the polling yesterday was: Charles A. Wells Gray, Liberal, 5,542; Major A. Wells Gray, Conservative, 1,517. Majority for Mr. Gray, 925.

The by-election was held in the wake of the death of Dr. E. J. Rothwell, Liberal. In the general election in 1924 the votes were divided as follows: Dr. E. J. Rothwell, Liberal, 1,564; Dr. A. M. Stanford, Conservative, 1,310; R. C. Higgins, Labor, 693; G. L. Cassidy, Provincial, 501.

HEAVY VOTE

The vote in the Royal City yesterday was a heavy one, there being 4,507 ballots cast out of 5,891 names on the Provincial list.

Mayor Gray maintained a substantial majority in all but one of the twenty polling booths at the Armories. The figures in that poll were 87 to 115 in favor of Mr. Wells.

When the results became known shortly after 7:30 p.m. hundreds of Liberal workers and citizens, led by the Mayor and Mayor Gray, escorted Mayor Gray in a triumphal march through the city streets.

CONGRATULATIONS GIVEN

Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, M.P.P., Vancouver, presided at a public reception held at the Russell Hotel and was one of the first to congratulate the new member. Mrs. Smith tendered greetings on behalf of the Liberal members of Vancouver.

Premier Maclean, who had left the city for Vancouver, telephoned his congratulations shortly after the result was known.

CLEAN CAMPAIGN

Mayor Gray paid a high tribute to his opponent and, expressed pleasure the campaign had been conducted on a high plane, and free from personalities.

"This is the sixteenth time I have been given a verdict at the New Westminster polls," said the new member. "As in the past, I will continue to work for the best interests of the city, and I am assured of the whole-hearted co-operation of my good friend, Charlie Wells, and his supporters."

Mr. Wells, who was warmly applauded, stated he hoped the people would think he was a good loser. He congratulated the successful candidate, and added that he had fought a clean fight and had no regrets.

OTHER SPEAKERS

Major S. F. M. Moodie, organization secretary of the Liberal Party; J. J. Dorgan, Liberal campaign manager; J. J. Robson, and George Murray, president of the Vancouver Liberal Association, were among the other speakers who congratulated the city on its choice of representative.

DINED TOGETHER

An outstanding instance of the friendly spirit maintained between the two candidates was manifested shortly before the polls closed. Mayor Gray and Dr. Toimie had dinner together in a downtown cafe and they both signed the check, agreeing the loser would pay.

E.C. FEELS RESULT

The verdict of New Westminster will be felt in every constituency of British Columbia in increasing the prestige of the Government and of its leader. In the same way the result noted out to Dr. Toimie will be demoralizing to the Conservative Party. Conservative leaders realize Dr. Toimie and his friends were confident of winning New Westminster, and leading Conservatives had placed many bets on the candidate, Mr. Wells. The enormous

THE GOVERNMENT'S FINE VICTORY

THE MacLEAN GOVERNMENT COULD not have wished for a more convincing endorsement than Mayor Gray's striking victory in New Westminster yesterday. It was believed that the Liberal candidate had a pretty good chance of heading the poll, partly because of his own personal popularity and his record of municipal service, and partly because of the record of the party whose banner he carried; but the most optimistic of his supporters never expected that his majority over his old friend—himself a popular citizen and the most worthy adversary the Conservative Party could have chosen—would be nearly as large as it was. A margin of 925 votes in a total of 4,159, the largest majority ever recorded in a provincial contest in the constituency, is something of which Mr. Gray and the Government may be proud.

By way of comparison it is interesting to review the votes cast in the last three general elections in the New Westminster riding. In 1916, the year in which the Liberal Party so completely overwhelmed the forces led by Mr. Bowser, Mr. David Whiteside was elected to the Legislature with a majority of 183. In 1920 he increased this to 362. In 1924 Dr. Rothwell, in a four-cornered contest, polled 254 more votes than the Conservative. In that election the Provincial Party's representative and the Labor candidate polled 1,284 votes between them, the Liberal 1,564, and the Conservative 1,310, the total number of ballots polled being just one less than the number polled yesterday. Incidentally, many of the votes which went to the Provincial Party's candidate in 1924 were really from voters who then were hostile to the Government. The great gain the Administration has made in New Westminster therefore is quite apparent.

Yesterday's victory presents an interesting contrast with the developments which followed the succession of Mr. Bowser to the Conservative Premiership on Sir Richard McBride's removal to the Agent-General's office in London. At that time Mr. A. C. Flumerfelt and Mr. Charles E. Tisdall were invited to join the new Cabinet. The former was badly beaten by Mr. H. C. Brewster in this city, and the latter by Mr. M. A. Macdonald in Vancouver. On the other hand, Premier MacLean's succession to the Premiership is marked by one of the most decisive victories ever recorded in a provincial byelection.

Not is this remarkable endorsement of the Government by the electors of New Westminster difficult to understand. Mayor Gray was fortunate in being able to conduct a campaign on a splendid government record of progressive policies. He was able to show how taxation had been reduced, how industrial expansion had been promoted and the certainty that Hon. J. D. MacLean would still further lower taxes. He showed, too, that the stability of British Columbia's financial structure had been assured by the establishment of a sinking fund, which, by the way, is as large as the sinking funds of Ontario, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba combined. Of deep interest to the people of New Westminster was the social legislation which the Government has placed upon the statute books. It has led the way in Canada by entering into an agreement with the Dominion Government for the payment of old age pensions before the present year is out. Its legislation which has made the lot of many indigent mothers in this Province a great deal brighter is well understood in New Westminster. In fact, the electors of that constituency, as in other constituencies, are more concerned about achievements than they are about recrimination and petty politics.

What of the other side? Very naturally Mr. Welsh was handicapped because his party is lacking in policies. As an example, Dr. Tolmie's only contribution to the solution of the P.G.E. problem—inherited by the Government from its Conservative predecessor in 1916—was the promise that he would travel over the line and then announce his policy on this question. Yet it is nine months since he became the leader of the Provincial Conservative Party—and the P.G.E. question is the one of the urgent problems before the people of this Province. Mr. Welsh surely could not feel encouraged by this form of assistance from his leader, and it furnished an amazing commentary upon the plight of his party. The votes polled for Mr. Gray show what the electors think about the Government's record and policies.

One of the pleasing features of the contest, incidentally, was the absence of personalities, as between Mayor Gray and Mr. Welsh, or anything which could disturb the long and intimate friendship between the two candidates. Both had dinner together before the ballots had been counted last night; and when the verdict was known the victor was able to say to the people of his constituency that he was assured of the co-operation of his "good friend, Charlie Welsh," the loser likewise telling the great gathering that it had been a clean fight, that he hoped he was a good loser, and that he had no alibi.

FAR FROM A FRAUD

MR. HALL CAINE, A SON OF THE NOVelist, says Prohibition in the United States is a fraud because he could buy better and cheaper whiskey in New York than he can in London.

It is not unusual for visitors from the other side of the Atlantic to tour the neighboring republic and joke about Prohibition when they get home. It means very little, of course, because nobody on a brief visit is able to get any idea about the success or failure of one of the greatest social experiments ever carried out in any country. But it seems extraordinary that supposedly intelligent, thinking people so often neglect to record their impressions of other matters. There are many people in the Old World who would like to be told things about the New World which have a bearing upon human happiness—how we live on this side of the Atlantic, what our working conditions are, our educational system, our home life, and so on. But if these matters are touched upon at all, they get merely scant reference. The absorbing topic so often is "booze" and how it can be obtained in a "dry" country.

Seldom do those who laugh at our neighbor's experiment tell their countrymen that Prohibition, far from being a failure or a fraud, has been more of a success in the United States than even yet in Canada think it has. The country's wealth and efficiency in all branches of human activity are not unrelated to the sobriety of its people. They own twenty-three million automobiles. That fact is far from either joke or fraud. And motor cars and liquor are poor mixers.

THIRTEEN YEARS AGO

THIRTEEN YEARS AGO TO-DAY sixty-eight officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the Fifth Regiment left Victoria for Valcartier and each of them, knowing little of what lay ahead, was presented with a little sprig of heather by the Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.E., "For Luck." Captain, now Brigadier-General, R. P. Clark was in charge of that gallant little band and on every August 26 the members of the Chapter remind us of that memorable event by a display of heather in remembrance.

We shall hope the Lady Douglas Chapter will continue to remember this date in the manner so intimately associated with its thoughtful action in 1914. It should be some measure of comfort for the relatives of those members of that first detachment who were destined never to return, but who did their duty to the end. The annual display of this simple little flower will keep their memory green.

PRESIDENT COSGRAVE'S PROMPT MOVE

IT DID NOT TAKE LONG FOR PRESIDENT Cosgrave to make up his mind about the course of action he would take as a result of the two striking victories which the Irish Free State Government won in Dublin City and Dublin County this week. He will ask the Governor-General to dissolve the Dail Eireann and go to the country for its instructions.

In each instance the support which the Government candidate obtained furnished all the evidence required to show that a great majority of the people of the Free State are opposed to any policy that might impede the country's peaceful progress.

It will have to be admitted that Eamonn de Valera still commands a fairly substantial following. The number of votes cast for the Fianna Fail candidates is proof of this. But their defeat, in view of the fact that the republican members had capitulated by taking the oath, and their seats in the Chamber, indicates rather that the electors have not been deceived by what, on the face of it, was nothing more than a gesture intended to return political advantage.

Conditions in the Irish Free State are too uncertain at this stage to permit of any speculation as to what will happen in the general election soon to take place. But it is obvious that President Cosgrave will go to the country with an excellent chance of endorsement in a more definite manner than was the case on his last appeal.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

COURTNEY'S COMING FLIGHT

When Capt. Courtney, the English airman, finally begins his London to New York and back flight, he may inaugurate a practical transatlantic air service. He is not out to establish a non-stop record, and is not a believer in non-stop flights.

In an article in the London Saturday Review, Capt. Courtney makes the point that the mere fact of not stopping between the departure and objective points has no real significance; the great point is to get there as quickly as possible, and provided that is done, it does not matter how often landings are effected en route.

That is the principle of air transport that has been somewhat obscured of late by the sensational non-stop "records" set by successive transatlantic flyers. Capt. Courtney in his "Whale" proposes to land for refueling twice during his outbound voyage to New York and once on the return journey. In this way he gains two important advantages. He lessens considerably the strain on his machine, and he increases the useful load of his machine. And as The Saturday Review article says, "safety and carrying capacity are the two main considerations of air transport, the practical importance of the British airman's flight is obvious."

Capt. Courtney has had bad luck in the matter of weather so far, and his departure has been delayed many days owing to storms over the Atlantic. But when he starts off, and especially Canadians, will wish him success on his great enterprise. If he succeeds in his objective, it will have been worth while waiting.

NO. 82

SIR WILFRED LAURIER

What would have been the fate of Confederation in Canada, if the high principles which inspired the great men who worked out this political regime had not survived in the minds of the statesmen who were compelled to carry on the greatest undertaking? One of the finest titles bestowed on Sir Wilfrid Laurier is probably to assert that he was the right heir of the Fathers of Confederation, and that he has completely understood and embodied in his doctrine the noble ideals of the statesmen of 1867.

Sir Wilfrid was born at St. Lin des Laurentides, Que., in 1841, of French-Canadian stock. He was well trained for his colorful career by a solid education at L'Assomption College, and after having followed his law studies at Montreal, he returned to his native town, where he was a member of the bar.

JOTS FROM GEOGRAPHY

THE TOMB OF ELIZABETH BARRETT BROWNING, at Florence, Italy, is constructed of pure white marble, bearing her initials. At the time of her death her post-husband decided that she should remain in her beloved city rather than be moved to England, her homeland. In the Casa Guidi, where Mrs. Browning died, the grateful Florentines have placed a tablet stating that her poetry formed a golden link between Italy and England.

The driver of the automobile was considerably shaken but was back at work within an hour of the accident. The truck turned completely over and its front was damaged.

AN EXCELLENT EXHIBIT

To the Editor:—The art section at the Willows Fair this year is one of the most interesting exhibitions there.

The management is to be congratulated not only on the splendid collection of pictures from Duncan and Victoria, but also on the way that everything is arranged.

Those who are interested in our local developments should not miss the opportunity of seeing the pottery made from British Columbia clay, pressed British Columbia flowers, butterflies and insects and the wonderful water color painting of wild flowers.

A NATIVE DAUGHTER.

It is estimated by the Forest Service of the Department of the Interior that the only economic use for three-eighths of the land area of Canada lies in the growing of trees. This vast area of territory, while incapable of successful agricultural production, is if permanently dedicated, protected, and managed, suited to the production of a timber crop which would guarantee for all time the supply of raw material for Canada's wood-using industries.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES, AUGUST 26, 1902

Winnipeg, Aug. 26.—Wheat cutting is in full swing in most districts and the warm and bright weather prevailing will certainly make it general early next week.

Victoria won the baseball game between Vancouver to the final score of 12-8 at the Oak Bay Park. There was really no cause for anxiety on the part of the local supporters at any time during the game.

The Blander commission adjourned yesterday afternoon for one week, in order to allow the Seattle lawyers interested in the case to attend to pressing business in that city.

Hon. W. C. Wells, chief Commissioner of Lands and Works, left for Vancouver last evening.

Weather Forecast—Victoria and vicinity: Fresh westerly winds; cool at night.

WIDOW HAS MADE FORTUNE IN RADIO SET MANUFACTURE

Mrs. Nellie Trego of Kansas City Started on a Loan Twelve Years Ago

Kansas City, Aug. 26.—Twelve years ago Mrs. Nellie Trego, in her twenties and full of life, was left a widow when her husband, a hardware dealer, died in Humboldt, Minn.

The young widow, with a daughter to support, banded up her few belongings and went to Kansas City, the nearest metropolis, she had enough money to give her a few weeks in a business college and then she obtained employment as a stenographer in the office of A. J. Stephens, manufacturer of automobile tires. The Stephens business grew rapidly and Mrs. Trego advanced in her work in salary. She bought stock in the company and was on the road to wealth when collapse of the rubber market left the concern in a bankrupt condition.

She had saved a small home from the crash and she placed a $9,000 mortgage on it.

With $2,500 of that sum she bought advertising space in newspapers and with the $500 she bought, mostly on credit, some equipment and material and began the manufacture of radio sets with only a few helpers—men who had worked under her direction in the tire factory.

Orders began to roll in. Now the business of the Trego Radio Company amounts to more than $1,000,000 a year and Mrs. Trego is recognized as one of the business leaders of her city.

But she is not a wealthy woman, independently wealthy and happy in her work. Success, however, has not caused her to drop any of her habits of industry and she is at her desk at eight every morning.

One of the results of publicity concerning her success has been the receipt by her of many letters from men throughout the country.

In a recent mail, containing 300 such letters, were many proposals of marriage, but those who do not contain real business correspondence.

Mrs. Trego weighs 110 pounds. "It is not necessary that I be a physical giant to make a success in business," she says. "One merely must be able to look ahead and willing to risk life on her own judgment. That was what I did when I foresaw the future of the radio business."

Mrs. Trego's plant covers an entire block. She has more than 100 employees.

In addition to her business interests, Mrs. Trego is a member of several women's organizations, including the Women's Chamber of Commerce of Kansas City.

PRINCES WENT INTO DEPTHS OF B.C. MINE

Cranbrook, Aug. 26.—In miners' clothing of overalls and rubber boots and with canteens slung in their caps, the Prince of Wales and Prince George yesterday explored the recesses of the Sullivan Mine at Kimberley, two miles underground. For 3,000 yards they rode on an electric line which bored deep into the heart of the mountain, then climbed a long steep slope on ore trolleys and were two miles from the outlet and 600 feet below the surface.

The Consolidated Smelters' refinery at Tadoussac. Yesterday they saw the main source of the silver-lead ore which goes to form of concentrates.

During the whole time they were in the Sullivan mine the two princes plied questions, familiarizing themselves with every detail of the operations. From the mine they drove through the mining village to the concentrator, where they showed a lively interest in the grinding of the ore and the preparation of concentrates.

At both Kimberley and Cranbrook, returned men formed guards of honor. Streets were gay with bunting and cheering crowds gave the royal brothers a hearty greeting along the beflagged road from Kimberley to the mine. Royalty stood at attention. City authorities of Cranbrook tendered an official welcome as the princes' train returned from Kimberley.

Banco Club Dance.—The Banco Athletic and Social Club will hold another delightful dance at its clubroom this evening.

TABLET TO MEMORY OF GREAT EXPLORER UNVEILED TO-DAY

Hon. R. R. Bruce Officiates at Ceremony Honoring Alex Mackenzie at Bella Coola

An interesting ceremony of historical significance took place at the little fishing and logging town of Bella Coola to-day, when His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor unveiled a tablet recording the arrival at that spot of Alexander Mackenzie, the intrepid Scottish explorer, who was the first white man to reach the Pacific Coast via the overland route through Canada.

The Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada has erected the tablet on top of the rock on which Mackenzie on July 22, 1793, inscribed in vermilion paint, mixed with grease, the inscription:

"Alexander Mackenzie, from Canada, by land, the twenty-second day of July, one thousand, seven hundred and ninety-three."

The original words have been chiseled out on the rock, in order that they may be a permanent reminder of this noteworthy occasion in the development of Canada.

The erection of the monument is largely the result of the combined efforts of Judge F. W. Howay of New Westminster, secretary of the Historic Sites Committee of the Historical Association, the British Columbia Historical Association and the Bella Coola Association.

Among those who saw the formal dedication of the monument at Bella Coola to-day were Helen Mackenzie, Mrs. M. R. B. Butchart, Sir Frank and Lady Bernard, His Honor Judge Howay, John Howie, Provincial Librarian and W. H. Moslen.

Picture frames should be wiped off each week when the thorough cleaning takes place. Fly-specked frames or glasses are inexcusable.

MISS WHITESIDE IS PRETTY BRIDE

Well-known New Westminster Girl Wed to James Easton Smith

A wedding of much interest to local friends of the bride was solemnized in New Westminster on Wednesday evening between Helen Richmond Whiteside, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Whiteside, 710 Royal Avenue, New Westminster, to James Easton Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith of Vancouver.

Rev. J. R. Robertson of Vancouver, performed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends. Aunts, sweet peas and palms were effectively arranged in the rooms.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a handsome sleeveless gown of white tulle and imported lace with touches of silver made in brilliant style, and carried a bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley.

The bridesmaids were Miss Betty Whiteside, sister of the bride, and Miss Marion Smith of Vancouver, sister of the groom. Miss Whiteside wore a pretty gown of coral tulle with a bouffant style and carried a shower bouquet of mauve sweet peas, and Miss Smith a gown of blue tulle and carried a bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley.

The groom was supported by Mr. Bertram Smith of Victoria. The wedding music was played by Miss Jennie Wilkinson and during the signing of the register Miss Kathleen Baird sang "At Dawning."

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony when the bride and groom were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Whiteside and Mrs. W. Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Smith left on a motor trip south. For traveling the bride wore a dress of satin crepe and a coat of alligator cloth trimmed with fur and a hat on suite. On their return they will reside in Vancouver.

OBITUARY

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Greenwood took place from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, presided over by Rev. H. B. Allen officiating. Many friends were present and the casket and hearse were covered with floral offerings. The following acted as pallbearers: W. Ashton, W. Thompson, T. H. Hayward, S. Ball, R. B. Jeffery and F. Smedley. Burial was made in Colwood Cemetery.

The death occurred at the Jubilee Hospital this morning of Mrs. Elsie Swanson, aged forty-six years, wife of H. G. H. Swanson of 718 Pine Street. She is survived by her husband, one son and one daughter. The remains are resting at the Sands Funeral Chapel pending burial arrangements, which will be announced later.

On the Blotter

Chief of Police John Fry is hearing the twenty-fifth anniversary of his enlistment with the Victoria Police Department. He first joined the force as a constable in 1902, but he is not by any means the oldest man on the staff in service. Sgt. Malcolm Blackstock joined in November, 1899. Andrew Wood, special parks policeman, joined in March, 1899. Then, there are the Blackstocks, same Chief of Detectives Harry O'Leary, in March of 1900, and "Wes" Harper, famous old bulldog of the force, in 1901. Chief Fry is the next on the list, and the closest to him are John Ireland and George Foster, who joined in 1898.

Chief Fry was recalling the "good old days" this morning. He was talking about the first duty he had to perform when he was taken on as a special constable during the C.P.R. strike. That was back around '09. He and Blackstock were young constables together. "Blackstock was a real husky," said the Chief, "and I was quite an athlete. We had very little trouble in the strike."

Chief Fry has not forgotten the days when he and his old comrades went into rough and tumble battles on the waterfront here and fought tooth and nail with hard-bitten steamship men of the Coast service. Victoria was a "wide-open" town then, he says.

Police officers are wearing their heather sprays this morning, for this is the anniversary of the first contingent of Canadians overseas. Some of the police force were with that first company of soldiers who embarked for the long struggle in Flanders. Some of them still carry the scars of battle and still more of them recollect the fine comradeship of those strenuous days. To-day they mark that day of departure and the comrades who never came home.

Police officers on special traffic duty hover like guardian angels at busy intersections throughout the city and guide pedestrians through the traffic these days. Lines have been painted on the principal streets for the guidance of those who walk about town, and although there are no laws against jay-walking police try to educate people to refrain from this dangerous habit. Often accidents are caused by thoughtless pedestrians who wander out into the street in front of traffic, swelled by the ranks of tourist cars, police officers say.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Rev. J. B. Patterson, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, will speak at the Bible class meeting on Saturday at 8 o'clock.

R. W. Mayhew, vice-president, presided at the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce to-day in the absence of C. P. W. Schwengers, president, who is out of the city. He welcomed as a guest, H. A. Davis of the Davis Motor Company.

Satisfaction at the passage of the Grain Elevator By-law was expressed by W. Phillips, manager of the industrial department of the Canadian National Railways, in a letter read at the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce to-day.

The Victoria Sketch Club resumes the meetings for the winter on Friday, September 2. New members who are eligible will be heartily welcomed. Those intending to join are asked to communicate either with Will Menzies, telephone 6934, or with Mr. Copeman, telephone 15591.

Elimination of the Oriental from agriculture in British Columbia was favored in a resolution of the Delta Board of Trade before the Victoria Chamber of Commerce directors to-day. No action was taken, the opinion being expressed that this was a Dominion matter. As long as the Orientals had been admitted, driving them out of agriculture would only mean driving them into another industry, said speakers.

The automobile of H. B. Lyon, well-known Californian who has made heavy investments in Victoria, was held by the customs authorities because of a violation of the permit. The car was on a tourist's permit Chamber of Commerce directors were informed to-day. The information was received from the department of customs in answer to a request for the specific charge against Mr. Lyon. The matter was left in the hands of the committee named at the previous meeting.

Calling attention to the necessity for securing a permit before starting building operations within the city, L. J. Ekman, acting building inspector for the city, stated to-day police court proceedings would follow future violations in this respect. A permit is necessary before work is commenced at the site. This is true of new buildings, alterations to existing buildings, etc. A city ordinance, passed last year, provides that any building erected, altered or dismantled, or any work done on a building, shall be done in accordance with the provisions of the act. It is the duty of the building inspector to see that these are strictly enforced, it is stated.

With the co-operation of a number of leading business firms in the city, Joseph North arranged for the children of the Protestant Orphan's Home to spend a most enjoyable day at the Victoria Fair yesterday. Luncheon was served in the fair grounds. Mr. North wishes to thank the following for making the expedition possible: Dominion Hotel, Small's Bakery, English Bakery, Cornwell's Bakery, Spencer's Limited, Manfield's Bakery, Our Own Brand, Pacific Meat Company for ten pounds of meat, and a number of other firms. The children were given a most enjoyable day, and the fair grounds were thronged with visitors. The children were given a most enjoyable day, and the fair grounds were thronged with visitors.

FISHING FLEETS LASHED BY GREAT STORM

The drowned body of a boy in the forecastle, was manned only by the owner, Arthur Covey, and his fourteen-year-old son. It is thought the little craft was capsized in the storm, and the boy was washed overboard while the boat was being tossed in the surf.

Halifax, Aug. 26.—Lines of communication thrown into untold confusion when a great gale and rainstorm suddenly swept over this province on Wednesday, destroying light and communication facilities, leaving crops and wrecking ships, and snuffing out the lives of at least ten people, were being slowly restored to-day, but reports from outlying districts were still meagre, and the whole story of the devastation following the worst storm experienced in Nova Scotia in fifty-four years will not be completely told for some days.

Estimates place the loss to the Nova Scotia apple crop at more than $1,000,000. Two small steamers, twenty-seven sailing vessels and countless small craft were thrown high and dry or foundered on the coast. Many of these may be salvaged, but the loss to shipping will be enormous.

Fishermen suffered a severe blow in the loss of small boats and gear. The damage to trees, gardens and shrubbery and small buildings can not be estimated, but few parts of the province escaped.

At least fifty highway bridges are known to have been washed away in flood waters, and miles of the trunk highways were under water, interrupting road traffic at the height of the tourist season.

In many places traffic was brought to a standstill. West of Kentville, on the main trunk highway, half a mile away from under water and boats and canoes were used to transport passengers, while drivers struggled to get their cars through muddy roads. Sections of highways were undermined and washed away.

Corn and grain crops were leveled in many counties and numerous truck gardens, holding promise of bumper crops, were buried under flood water. The storm was general from Cape North to Cape Sable.

Curing, Nfld., Aug. 26.—A ninety-mile gale swept a tidal wave up Number Arm, a bay at the mouth of the Humber River in western Newfoundland, during the storm which swept all over the island yesterday. One life was lost and extensive damage done.

At Humber Mouth, a man named Hadley was caught in the rushing water. As the giant wave inundated the shore line, boats were torn from their moorings, fishing camps were set afloat and trees were uprooted.

HOTEL LOBBY GOSSIP

Half the politicians, statesmen and diplomats of the United States appear to have registered at Victoria hotels and then migrated to the fishing grounds this summer. The latest is former Congressman Will E. Humphreys of Washington, who is now Federal Trade Commissioner at Washington, D.C.

Campbell River was his happy hunting ground, and with eyes twinkling as he exhibited a photograph to prove he had caught a salmon, he told how he won his membership in the world famous Tye Club. "I got a great salmon, and I got it on a rod and line. Boy how it fought! If there is any fishing better than that lead me to it. How must it feel? Kinky, seven and one-half pounds. Please get that right. Here's the silver button of the Tye Club I won for getting it."

"That fish is going right back to Washington, D.C.," he added. "I have had it frozen and shipped, and I am following it to Washington to show it to Col. President Coolidge, and tell him where I caught it. I got it on a spoon. I didn't even use a worm."

GROUP SETTLERS
Opportunities in Canada for trained British workers now unemployed in Britain are being studied by F. M. Blundell, member for the House of Commons, who is connected with the Catholic Emigration Society. The society, Mr. Blundell explains, seeks to provide division of the British Empire for British Catholics who leave England.

There are many colonies in Britain who would make good Canadian citizens, Mr. Blundell thinks. They have lost their employment through the division of the British Empire, and he is strongly in favor of sending emigrants out in groups.

VISITED ROYAL SUITE
Another of those little acts which emphasize the human trait in the character of the Prince of Wales has been brought to light. When he made his visit to the Jubilee Hospital he was told of a patient, King Poppy, a war and Great War veteran, just recovered from a belated operation for a wound received at Vimy Ridge.

Poppy, formerly of the Irish Hussars, had been on guard of honor for King Edward and King George. He was out when the Prince visited the hospital, so called on him at the Empress Hotel. His Royal Highness was out, but in response to a written note later invited the veteran to the royal suite, where he chatted with him cordially for a few minutes.

STRIKING FASHIONS
Tourists from the United States staying at Victoria hotels are bringing to the city some startling fashion innovations. One lady in a hotel lobby yesterday was wearing an attractive coat under the style of a Mandarin's robe. It had a large circle design at the back, and was gay with designs and colors of Oriental touch. The colors were bright, and the design was also used on bright-colored shoes creating striking effect.

Comfort in hats for motoring without losing the feminine touch was also exemplified by that worn by one lady tourist. It was of tweed, close fitting with a pole like that of a paper's cap, and adorned with a colored band that eliminated any suggestion of male headgear.

Paying his third summer visit to Victoria, J. Lammie of Butte, Montana, in the city to-day, and much to say both of its charms and business prospects. A well-known business man, he is in the city to-day, and much to say both of its charms and business prospects. A well-known business man, he is in the city to-day, and much to say both of its charms and business prospects.

Some states he is in a position to speak, and after visiting many cities on the Pacific Coast he has selected this for his future home. "I have the land, and I plan to return to Montana and make arrangements to transfer my interests to Victoria and start business here."

COST OF REPAIRS TO STEAMER PRINCE RUPERT, $50,000
Vancouver, Aug. 26.—Completed surveys of the steamer Prince Rupert, which touched on Ripple Rock, Seymour Narrows, early last week, indicate that the damage was more extensive than at first anticipated. The cost of repairs is now estimated at $50,000.

Whether the line will be repaired here or in Prince Rupert will be determined next week by officials of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine Limited. The Burrard Drydock Company plant in North Vancouver.

CANADIAN FUND FOR RESEARCH PROPOSED
Suggestion Wins Support of Speakers at Commerce Chamber Meeting

Pointing out that Canadians were particularly adapted for research work, C. P. Hill, at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors to-day, expressed himself in favor of the expenditure of $500,000 per annum in Canada for industrial and scientific research work. The matter was brought before the directors by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce section on the proposal. Several other directors supported Mr. Hill, but the matter was left over until it could be given further consideration.

Mr. Hill mentioned that it was such a laboratory the Rockefeller Institute would also help. Canada particularly needed scientific and industrial research opportunities. George McCreger pointed out that several lines in Canadian colleges were immediately secured by the United States. In a natural resource yet undeveloped, this is an important matter, commented the chairman, R. W. Mayhew.

EXHIBITION HOLDS GREAT INTEREST

The Spencer entry is a magnificent collection, headed by Betty Lady's Last Ten grand championships. The grand champion female, also shown by Mrs. Spencer Limited is Spill's Lady Lustre, and also achieved first honors wherever shown this year.

According to George Sangster, one of the most coveted prizes at any exhibition is that awarded a E. Dumville of Bards for his young herd bred by the exhibitor. Mr. Dumville is the president of the Chilliwack Agricultural Society, and has been developing his own strain of Jerseys since 1920, his conservative yet progressive methods being reflected in his success this year.

Wherever champion Jersey cow here and at Vancouver, was bred for three generations back by Mr. Dumville. E. E. ### All Leading Local Golfers Enter For City Championship

Seventy Entries Received; Qualifying Round Over 36 Holes at Uplands

Art Beasley, Present Champ, Will Defend His Honors; Young Players In

All the prominent local golfers have filed their entries for the city golf championship which will be held at the Uplands Golf Club. Entries closed this morning at 10 o'clock with John Caven, secretary of the Uplands Club, and he announced that a total of seventy names would go into the draw, which would be ready for publication to-morrow.

The qualifying round of thirty-six holes will be played on Sunday and the first couple will tee up at 8.30 o'clock. The thirty-two lowest scores will qualify and begin match play the following week-end.

TO DEFEND TITLE

Art Beasley, present city champion, has entered and will defend his honors. Art won the title at the Victoria Golf Club, his home links, but he plays a very sound game and will be a prominent contender again this year.

Frank Thomas, a former champion, along with Harold Lineham, will carry the main honors of the Uplands Golf Club, although C. I. McKennie, Jack Findlay, Walter Hall, Art Christopher, George Simpson and Lester Patrick are also in to try to keep the Uplands colors high.

OAK BAY PLAYERS STRONG

The Victoria Golf Club will have a very strong contingent as in addition to Beasley they will have Ronnie Scott-Moncrieff, who has just returned from Cambridge University where he captured the Yarrity golf team this year. A. S. G. Mungrave, Jack Matson, Reg. and Stan. Haynes and Beau Burdick make up the string of young golfers from the Oak Bay Club.

Uplands golfers will predominate in the qualifying round. A. V. Price, a former champion; Percy Edmunds, who has been a member of the Uplands golf team since 1924, and Bob Morrison will be among the starters.

now in "The Prince of Headwaiters," a First National feature, she has a part. "The Prince of Headwaiters," now at the Capitol Theatre, is Sam E. Rork's comedy-drama. ### "MOTHER" VARIETY FILM OFFERING FOR BALANCE OF WEEK

Sam Allen, veteran character actor, was the selection for the role of the eccentric Corporal Tanner in "Mother," all this week at the Variety Theatre. Allen proved ideal for the role. Belle Bennett is starred and the supporting company includes Crawford Kent, William Bakewell, Joyce Coad and Charlotte Stevens. J. Lee Meehan, who directed "Laddie" and "The Magic Garden," made "Mother" his finest effort.

MATHESON LANG AS GUY FAWKES AT PLAYHOUSE

The idea of portraying such outstanding historical figures, either on the stage or in the screen, appeals strongly to most actors, and Matheson Lang, who plays Guy Fawkes in the film of that name (adapted from the novel), is no exception.

"Guy Fawkes," he says, "is a wonderful character and the story of his life is an intensely dramatic one."

"Guy Fawkes was a reckless devil who plunged into the famous (or infamous) Gunpowder Plot without hesitating what he was undertaking."

"Guy Fawkes" is this week at the Playhouse Theatre.

GLORIA SWANSON IN "THE LOVE OF SUNYA" AT DOMINION TO-DAY

"One of the greatest and most considerate actresses in films to-day," this is how Ian Keith refers to Gloria Swanson, star of "The Love of Sunya," now playing at the Dominion Theatre. Keith, who plays the role of Gloria's lover in the picture, attributes much of his own success on the screen to the famous actress.

Several years ago, Miss Swanson noticed Keith's fine acting on the stage and persuaded him to play a leading role opposite her. Since then Gloria has been in several other Swanson pictures but "The Love of Sunya" marks their first appearance together in more than a year.

"Gloria takes an interest in each member of her cast," Keith said, "and just as she has sought to improve her own talents, she seeks to do the same for others. Every time I come to play in one of her pictures, I notice the great improvement she has made in her art."

Miss Swanson naturally is an expert on make-up and often when she notices defects in make-up of new players in her pictures, she points out how they can be remedied.

Gloria has an apartment at the studio where she works and members of the cast are often her guests at luncheon and dinner there as well as frequent visitors to her city home.

SAGACIOUS HORSE

AND GOLD MINE IN

COLUMBIA FILM

Serpentine Springs, halting place for the hunted, where every whispering shadow was a warning, was ruled over by a great, black station of will, beauty, cunning and devilry. Near this oasis in Death Valley lived old Jake Belcher with his daughter, Toby.

Toby's home was a shack, her one "trick" was a ragged shirt and faded overalls, nature was her teacher, and her playmate was the wild horse, who allowed no other human being near him.

One sunrise, two men saw a flash of white through the sagebrush—saw a girl pose on a rock, fly through the air, a graceful figure, and then splash into the cold water of the pool. It was Toby, and the men had only the night before crossed the stark border of the desert ahead of the sheriff. And here was a prize to be had for the taking—Jake's gold mine.

But these two bad men reckoned without Toby's guardian, the wild horse of thundering hoofs; and they reckoned without the spark of decency that still burned unsuppressed in the soul of Spider O'Leary, who, while far from being a saint, was a better man than Sharkey Nye.

During the twenty-four hours from one sunrise to the next there is enacted what is said to be a powerful drama between these four human characters and Rex, the wild horse, in "No Man's Law," the Hal Roach-Palms feature showing to-day at the Columbia Theatre. Barbara Kent, James Finlayson, Oliver Hardy and Theodore Von appear in the cast.

OUR SERIAL STORY

"The Wife & Co."

By LYLE HAMILTON

Neither of them touched upon their late dispute, until the moment he was going out the door. Then she said: "I spent the loneliest Sunday, Bob!"

He kissed her again. "It was my fault," he declared. "We'll never have another spat, Mollykins!"

"You must always try to understand me," she told him, holding to his hand. "I was awfully hurt, honey boy!"

"I've got a rotten temper," he said. "Don't forget me, won't you?"

With the matter thus happily settled they said good-night, and Molly went singing to bed.

The next day, and the next, passed comfortably. Molly was busy—so busy that at night she was almost too tired to eat. Still, the work was pleasant, and Mr. Frazier was developing into more and more satisfactory employer.

He knew what he wanted, and insisted on getting it, but he never gave contradictory orders, nor did he ask Molly to attend to anything but his own correspondence and reports.

This last feature of the work began to bother Molly, and she took the subject up with him.

"If you want any errands done," she said, "I'll be glad to do them, just like a man would."

"Yes," he said. "And it would take you six times as long to do them as it would take a man. Thanks. I'll send the office boy. If it's something he can't do, I'll send somebody else."

"But I can walk as fast as anybody," protested the girl.

"Quite true," said he. "And by the time you'd fixed your hair, and put on your hat, and found your handbag, and gone out, and looked in fourteen shop windows, and stopped in the five-and-ten-cent store to buy something you'd remembered, and run into somebody you knew and had a chat with him—or her—the office boy could have done the errand, and gone to sleep again. I've been timing female help and male help for twenty-five years now, young woman. Don't argue with me."

He returned to the trade paper he was reading, and Molly retreated to her room.

She was not annoyed. She even giggled a little. More than once she herself had used an hour and a half on a mission for her old employer, when she could have had anything else to do. On two occasions she had even viewed specially fascinating movies, on office time.

While she was still smiling over the boss's remarks, a hand fell upon her shoulder.

She looked up. The fat office manager was standing over her.

CHAPTER X

"There's a little work I'd like to do to-morrow afternoon, Miss Anderson," said Stickle.

"But to-morrow's Saturday!" objected Molly.

The office manager kept his hand on her shoulder and tilted his round face a trifle nearer hers. "That makes it more convenient for you," said he. "You won't have anything else to do."

Molly was angry at once, and flared up. "Take your hand off my shoulder!" she commanded, loudly.

The rest of the office force turned to watch. Stickle removed his hand and straightened up.

"As soon as you've finished lunch," he said, "come back and report to me. He revolved slowly on his heel and disappeared away, his hands clasped behind him.

"Good Lord, kid, you've done it," said the girl who first had told her of Stickle's little ways. "He'll fix you right now."

"I don't care," stormed Molly. "He has no right putting his fat fingers on me! And he hasn't any right to make me work on Saturday afternoon, either! I'm going to tell Mr. Frazier."

The other girl clicked her tongue. "Did he tell you to work after quitting time to-morrow?"

"He did, and he hadn't any right to! I'm not working for him!"

"His wife must be sick," pronounced her friend, after some reflection. "But she ducks out of here so fast you can hardly see his smoke, Saturday afternoons. She takes him out shopping with her."

Molly had produced her handkerchief and was holding it to her eyes. "Bob bought me an engagement ring," she said, "and it was too big and we were going to change it to-morrow!"

"It's a darn shame," said the girl. "Won't you show me the ring? It's a diamond, isn't it?"

Molly had not intended to display her treasure until she could flash it from her finger. Still, it was with some eagerness that she reached for the white box. It isn't every girl who can show an engagement ring, even one that doesn't fit.

"My!" said the other girl, taking the platinum circlet in her hand. "It's an awfully little diamond, isn't it?"

"When I marry," said the girl, "I'll get a fellow who can give me a real solitaire. I saw one at the theatre the other night. It was as big as a tooth! I don't believe I took my eyes off it the whole performance, and she was a homely girl, too. I don't see how homely girls get that kind of fellows. Do you?"

Molly, however, was wrathfully storing her ring in its box and she refused to answer. Her diamond had been insulted, and thereby an injury had been done to her man and to herself. She flounced to her feet and carried her hat and coat to the washroom without another word, leaving the other girl staring.

Troubles had piled upon her shoulders. So Molly, after dinner, came back to the office to find Bob and to unload her burden.

She found him bent over his desk, scratching at his weekly report with a pen knife.

"Hello, Mollykins," he said, glancing at her over his shoulder. His speech was thick on account of the pen which impeded the movements of his jaw. "I made a whole column of figures wrong!"

She drew a chair and sat down beside him.

"Stickle says I've got to work to-morrow afternoon, and Mary Holmquist says my diamond's awfully little," said Molly.

He took the pen from his mouth and smiled. "It's a dirty trick," he said. "Yes, isn't she horrible?" The girl drew her chair closer.

"I mean Stickle played a dirty trick," he explained. "What did little Swede do that was horrible?"

"Why, I told you! She said it's an awfully little diamond."

He blew some crumbs of paper from the sheet before him and continued scratching with the knife. "It is little," he said. "Mary didn't mean any harm. She's just as kind-hearted as can be."

"Do you like her?" Molly drew back a trifle.

"Yeah," he said, absently. "She's a good kid. Blast it! I had these figures all finished, and now I've got to copy 'em in again."

His fiancée turned her head away, looking at the street outside, and tapping the toe of her shoe upon the floor.

Mary Holmquist, a good kid! Mary, with her fluffy blond hair and curiously chestnut-colored eyes and white, healthy Swedish skin!

"Do you think she's pretty?" asked Molly, sharply.

"Oh, her? Yes, kind of pretty." He returned to his work. "Now you keep quiet a few minutes, Mollykins, and I'll take you home."

Molly bit her lip, and then arose. "I've got some errands to do," she said. "You needn't bother to take me home—I may be late."

"All right," he beamed upon her, tenderly, and waved as she walked toward the door. "I'll stick around to-morrow until Stickle turns you loose, and then we'll tend to that ring."

When she looked back through the glass of the outer door he was humped over the desk, intently at work on his report as if Molly never had been there at all.

Uncle Wiggily's Salt Water Taffy

Copyright, 1927, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
(By HOWARD K. GARIS)

"Mother, could we please have a kettle to boil something in?" asked Jingle, one of the many little rabbit girls, who had come to help Uncle Wiggily spend a pleasant vacation at the shell cottage at the seashore. This was on a morning when the sun was shining bright.

"How much did you put in the kettle?"

"What are you going to boil?" asked Mr. Longears.

"Oh, something," answered Jingle with a sort of secret air about her. "But there's no harm in it, Mother. She was quick to say. 'Daddies can come down to the beach and watch us if he likes.'"

"I may hop down a little later after I see if there are any adventures that need looking after," chuckled Mr. Longears. "But to boil anything, he said to Jingle, 'you need a fire. Now a fire means matches and matches means burns unless you are very careful."

EXPECTANT MOTHERS

Read Mrs. Menard's Letter. Her Experience May Help

Chatham, Ontario.—"I want to tell you how much good your medicine has done me. Before my baby came I felt so weak and run down that I could hardly do my work. My head ached continually and I was so discouraged, that I could cry from morning till night. I had another baby just one year and a half old and it gave me a lot to do. So I thought I would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as I had read so much about it in the little books. I found a difference right away as my head was relieved and my tired feelings gone. My sister had been doing my washing and she continued doing it, as she said it might set me back if I started to do it again. I sure did help me and I had taken just two bottles when my baby came. He is a fine big boy, now nearly five months old. I am taking your medicine again and I am able to do my work all by myself now. I always recommend the Vegetable Compound to women, and especially to expectant mothers, as I believe they need help at those times."

Mrs. OLIVER MENARD, 24 Harvey St., Chatham, Ontario.

BOXER IN COURT

Montreal, Aug. 26.—Harry ("Kid") Marshall, local boxer, appeared in court yesterday charged with participating in the $40,000 jewelry robbery at the Capitol Jewelry Store here August 6 and pleaded not guilty. The looting of the St. Catharines Street jewelry store was carried out at 9 o'clock in the morning, over $40,000 worth of diamonds being carried off by two men and a woman. The trio held up two clerks, bound them and made their getaway through crowded streets.

PRAIRIE FLIGHT

Winnipeg, Aug. 26.—Flight Officer Thomas Shields of the Royal Canadian Air Force landed at the St. Charles Flying Field, near Winnipeg, at 9:50 yesterday afternoon from High River, Alta. The airman bettered his recent western flight by half an hour, due to favorable winds. Despite the fact he was compelled to guide the machine all the way with his left hand, Shields made a perfect landing, and seemed fresh after his 900-mile cruise. He injured his right hand during his stay in High River, where he conducted flying tests.

"The Stars Indicate, But Do Not Compel"

(Copyright)

SATURDAY, AUGUST 27

During the active hours of this day benefic aspects rule, according to astrology, and there is supposed to be stimulation and even inspiration in the planetary government.

This is a day for settling bills and putting all one's financial affairs in order, so that Autumn business may start with a clean slate.

Mercury is in a place supposed to be most fortunate for bankers and brokers, who are to have a period of extraordinary activity.

New kings of finance are to rise in the coming year and again new millionaires will be added suddenly to the long list in America.

All the signs indicate for the press immense profits, due to a renewed interest in reading on the part of the public.

World affairs will stimulate interest in newspapers, magazines, the radio and movies, it is prognosticated, there is to be the most tremendous momentum in progress.

Rumors of wheat shortage will be disseminated more than once in the next few weeks and there will be much speculation, it is persistently prophesied.

From Europe will come various military suggestions in the fashions, which should be accepted reluctantly, the seers say, as they may forecast serious events.

Scandals may be whispered at the European courts at this time when royal marriages will be widely discussed.

Warnings again is given that motor accidents and aviation disasters will show a marked increase.

Changes in the modes will affect the manner of hair-dressing and cause many to return to old-fashioned, astrological foretell.

Manufacturers of cosmetics are warned that there may be a decided falling off in sales, for the vogue for natural beauty is to be followed by social leaders, it is foretold.

Persons whose birthdate it is may have certain anxieties about financial affairs in the coming year. Employees should be most faithful and industrious.

Children born on this day may be keen of intellect but too much inclined to form fixed opinions. They should be broadly educated.

"---don't hesitate, start treatments at once and be cured"

Such is the advice of this Victoria man who writes his personal testimony of the benefit he has received.

Victoria, B. C., August 12, 1927.

Dear Sir:—

I feel it is only fair to those who suffer that I should write you so that everyone should know the wonderful results that I have received through using the I-ON-A-CO Belt. My nerves were in a terrible shape, which affected my sleep, in fact, with loss of sleep and general condition, it was a great effort of will to force myself through the day's work, and 'twas daily getting worse. Now, to speak truthfully, I had heard of your Belt, but supposed it was a treatment necessitating undressing and going to considerable trouble. But I was getting into such a state that I finally started on treatments, and much to my surprise I found what a simple, delightful treatment it was. I did not have to even take my coat off, and also there was neither jar nor shock. I took treatment for four weeks steadily and with all honesty can say I am absolutely cured. My nerves are quite normal and I sleep regularly every night for at least eight hours. My whole system is toned up and I feel better and more ambitious than I have for years. My advice to anyone in pain is, don't hesitate, start treatments at once and be cured.

You may publish this letter as you wish, and let others know what a wonderful remedy the I-ON-A-CO Belt is.

I enclose my card and will be glad to give my personal testimony to anyone.

Yours very truly, H. O. G.
